

Dear parents/carers,

Welcome back! We hope you had a lovely summer holiday. We have had a fantastic start to the new academic year. All of the children have settled well and jumped into our whole school project for this term: The Tempest by William Shakespeare. Please do take a look at our dates for the diary section to see what is planned for this term. Wishing you a wonderful weekend -

Ross Silcock and Wanda

Some highlights from our school this week:

Year 6 have been resourcing and constructing sentences based on the storm in 'The Tempest.'

Year 5 have been learning about the new text and summarising the main events through drama and reading.

Year 4 have been enjoying 'The Tempest' and learning about the plot of the story.

Year 3 have been reading 'The Tempest' and comparing the different characters.

Year 2 have been immersing ourselves into our whole school text and learning about the main characters.

Year 1 have enjoyed their transition from Reception to Year 1.

Reception have been visiting the children's parents in preparation for the children's first day at school.

Nursery teachers have been visiting the children's parents in preparation for the children's first day at school.

Introducing our new teachers

Miss. Whitaker is the new year 3 teacher, and her class is 3EW. She said that she is really enjoying getting to know the children. Her passion in education is PE and she plays netball competitively in her spare time. In year 4, we welcome Mr. Ryan, who is already blown away by the amazing children in this school and he can't wait to get to know them all. In his spare time, he likes to write poems and songs- he can't wait to share his passion with the children at Wingfield. A massive welcome to the school from everyone in the Wingfield community.

A few messages from the school

- All year 2-6 parents will be receiving a letter soon regarding the theatre trip to watch a performance related to our whole school project 'The Tempest.' The school will also be inviting ArtyParty into the school to create some wonderful art outcomes related to this project.
- Parents' Evening will be running from 16th-19th October. More information regarding bookings will be shared shortly.

A selection of photos from the teacher's book corners...

What are the teachers looking forward to this year?

Mr. Mitakos: Will the mighty Wingfield retain their league championship from last year? I can't wait to see what this year has in store for us!

Miss. Mitakos: I thoroughly enjoyed teaching the Great Fire of London last year. I am looking forward to exploring this topic through art and history.

Miss. Gomez: I'm really excited to see how the children progress with their writing, particularly as we have so many interesting topics to learn about.

Miss Bolt: I can't wait to work in a new year group and to engage with the curriculum.

Miss. Michael: I am excited to see how the children from Wingfield's Nursery create bonds and friendships with the new children joining the school.

Miss. Travers: In Nursery and Reception, we are redesigning our outdoor areas and we are looking forward to seeing how the children interact with them.

Mrs. Pigott: I am looking forward to watching 'The Tempest' as a whole school and to see how the story is brought to life.

Mrs. Park: The school council are going to be working on the school's garden and I am looking forward to seeing how this develops our school's sustainability plans.

Mr. Ryan: The residential trip to Bowles sounds a lot of fun!

Mr. Savage: I can't wait to lead the KS2 singing assemblies and to choose the songs that the children will be singing.

Miss. Ashdown: Our learning on South America last year was really fun, so re-teaching that this year will be great.

Miss. Bradley: I am looking forward to seeing the children develop and grow independently as the year develops.
