

The Big Snotty Sneeze

One day, my mummy went to the doctor because her tummy was getting bigger and bigger like a balloon at a birthday party. The doctor looked inside mummy's belly and said something unexpected, "Surprise! There are TWO babies in your belly!"

My mummy said, "TWO?!" and my daddy almost fell off his chair like a wobbly jelly. He blinked a lot and said, "Are you sure it's not just one very wiggly baby?" But it was definitely two!

Inside the belly, me and my sister Natalie were having a great time. It was squishy and warm, like a giant sleeping bag. Natalie liked to wiggle, and I liked to kick. Sometimes, we bumped into each other and said, "Oops, sorry!"

My mummy ate lots of healthy food, which was excellent news for us. When she ate vegetables, I did a happy kick. When she ate fruit, Natalie did a big wiggle. One time she ate something spicy and we both froze like statues, like, "What is THAT?!"

One day, everything felt extra wiggly, like a caterpillar doing a dance. The belly got tighter and tighter. Natalie said, "Uh oh, something is happening!" And I thought, "Maybe it's a party?"

Then suddenly... my mummy's nose went all tingly.

"Ah... AH... ACHOOOO!"

WHOOSH!

Out popped Natalie with the FIRST BIG SNOTTY SNEEZE!

Everyone was shocked. The doctor said, "Well, that's new!"

But my mummy's nose wasn't done.

"Ah... AH... ACHOOOO!"

And out I came, flying like a tiny superhero with the SECOND BIG SNOTTY SNEEZE!

The doctor said, "Two sneezes, two babies! Incredible!"

And that is the story of how my mummy sneezed us into the world.

Three years later, mummy's nose went all tingly again.

"Ah... AH... ACHOOOO!"

Out popped Daisy!

I gave mummy a cheeky smile and said, "You should really stop sneezing now please!"

The End.

Hannah, Year 2, Wingfield primary school